DEDICATION OF PENNSY'S NEW BUILDING

Foreign Representatives and American University Delegates Will be Present.

EXERCISES FRIDAY

Formal Opening Will Mark an Epoch in Engineering Education.

The opening of the new building for the engineering departments of the University of Pennsylvania will mark an epoch in the history of engineering education in America. Six foreign governments have appointed representatives to attend the formal dedication on Friday, and more than one hundred American scientific institutions and universities have named delegates. Frederick W. Taylor, the president of the Society of American Mechanical Engineers, and Dr. Alexander C. Humphreys, the president of Stevens Institute of Technology, will deliver the principal addresses, and Provost Harrison will confer honorary degrees upon twelve distinguished engineers.

The building to be dedicated is the largest of the seventy buildings now occupied by the University of Pennsylvania, having a frontage of 300 feet and a depth of 210 feet. The cost, including equipment, was almost one million dollars. It is of fireproof construction, and the equipment is of the most modern and approved type. The exterior is of dark brick, with limestone trimmings, and while the general architectural treatment is in the English-Georgian school, and in accord with the keynote given by the dormitory buildings and later University halls, it is in a quieter vein.

There are three stories, with a basement covering a third of the entire building, the total floor area being 118,000 square feet. The heating is by direct steam; the ventilation by electrically driven fans, and the lighting by electricity. The steam for the engines is supplied from the central station of the university, and after being used by the engines, is sent into the heating system of the building. There are two principal entrances leading to the main hallway, which extend east and west the entire length of the building to staircases at both extremities. Two large light-wells terminate in skylights over the main floor. The basement contains locker rooms, lavatories, machinery for heating and ventilating, storage battery rooms, laboratories for geodetic and hydraulic work, and for the testing of the materials of construction.

On the first floor, adjacent to the main entrance, are the offices of the heads of departments, the eastern part of the building being devoted entirely to the civil engineering department, and the western part to the mechanical engineering department. Accommodation is also provided for physical and hydraulic testing, instrument testing and for special work in mechanical and electrical engineering. Rooms are likewise set aside for dynamos and electric motors, steam and gas engines, refrigerating apparatus, hydraulic motors, boiler testing, pattern making, wood and iron working, foundry and machine shops.

On the second floor is a reference library and reading room, a students' assembly room, rooms for use of instructors and for lectures and recitations. The rear portion of this floor is devoted almost wholly to drawing rooms. A room for the use of the engineering societies, a general supply store, and the library stack occupy the middle portion. In the east and west wings ample space is assigned to the engineering museums, while the rear of this floor is set aside exclusively for additional drawing rooms, which, like those just beneath, will have the full advantage of a north light.

The engineering department of the university was established in 1874, but the constant increase of numbers in the classes of the departments has necessitated their moving into more spacious quarters three times since their founding. The departments this year have a total enrollment of nearly 610 students and a teaching force of 49. The new quarters which will be occupied this fall are believed to be the finest and most complete laboratories of their kind for instruction in engineering.

Basketball League Formed.

Basketball players of the city met last evening at the Central Y. M. C. A. and organized the Albany Basketball League. The teams which will comprise the league are as follows, although applications for membership, both individually and for teams, will be open until November 15: Holy Name First, Holy Name Second, Mohawks, Y. M. C. A. First, Business Men, Sanfords, Albany, Superbas, All Saints and Y. M. C. A. Second. President Barnes, the retiring physical director of the Y. M. C. A., handed in his resignation and Physical Director Davison was elected to fill the vacancy.

Murphy—Schulz.

Our Lady of Angels church was the scene of a pretty wedding this afternoon when Miss Louise Schulz, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schulz, was married to Charles A. Murphy. The Rev. Father Alphonse Lehrscholl officiated, other clergy in the sanctuary being the Rev. Peter W. Scharoun, the Rev. Henry Thameling of the church and the Rev. Father Louis of Syracuse. Miss Schulz was attended by her sister, Miss Mary Schulz, and Garret B. Brower, jr., was best man. The bride was daintily gowned in white silk, with yoke and medallion trimming of real lace. In lieu of veil she wore a white feather pompon and aigrette and she carried white roses. The bridesmaid wore a gown of white silk batiste and lace, white roses in her hair and carried pink carnations. The late afternoon and early evening hours are being devoted to a continuation of the wedding festivities at the home of the bride's parents, 141 First street. Here the decorations are palms, cut flowers and ferns. Here also are displayed the wedding gifts, which are many and beautiful.

Those at the reception and supper included Mr. and Mrs. Anton Schulz, Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Murphy, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Pommer, Mr. and Mrs. Laurence Schulz, Mr. and Mrs. H. Menges, Mr. and Mrs. John Pommer, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stark, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Lavin, John Lavin, Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sietler, Mr. and Mrs. John Weber, Curtis Weber, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Noeth, Mrs. Katherine Noeth and family, Mr. and Mrs. Daniel McCann, Mr. and Mrs. John Fenelon, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Zwack and son, Miss Margaret Albert, Mrs. M. Haufs, Miss Susanna Kamly, Mrs. Katherine Lockren, Mrs. Barbara Stram, John Bruce, Miss Mary Niedle, Mr. and Mrs. George Driesslein, William Rully, Mr. and Mrs. Garret B. Brower, sr., Charles Denning and Thomas Patterson of Washington, Mrs. Honikle and family, George Honikle, Miss Minnie Honikle, and the Rev. Fathers Lehrscholl, Scharoun and Thameling of this city and Father Louis of Syracuse.

Wedding Anniversary.

Mr. and Mrs. Abraham Hagaman entertained at dinner last evening prior to the ceremonials at Trinity M. E. church, with which their fiftieth wedding anniversary was marked. Beside the immediate family those at table included: Mrs. Mary Spencer of Cleveland, Ohio, a sister of Mrs. Hagaman, and her son; Mrs. Martha Doolittle of Michigan, another sister, and her son; Lyman Woolcock of Roseman, Ill., a brother; Lewis Woolcock of Trenton, N. J., another brother; Miss Harriet Woolcock of Roseman, Ill.; Alfred Doolittle of Michigan, and the children.

The church program was carried out almost as prearranged. The remarriage service was omitted on account of time. Letters of congratulation were read from the Rev. William F. Whitaker, Mrs. Anna A. Hayes, A. P. Leonard and many others.

A feature of the evening was the presentation to Mr. and Mrs. Hagaman of a solid gold loving cup bearing this inscription: "Presented to Mr. and Mrs. Hagaman by the members of Trinity Methodist church on their completion of 50 years of happy married life."

Charles Gibson, the chairman of the committee of arrangements, made the presentation speech, in which he spoke of the warm place Mr. and Mrs. Hagaman had in the hearts of the church people, and how they were not only respected because they were Methodists, but because they were loyal citizens, who were an honor to the community.

Mr. Hagaman responded.

Card Party.

Miss Elizabeth Dawson of Hamilton street was the hostess at a card party last evening. Prizes were won by Miss Agnes Leonard, Miss Mary Valliquette, Miss Catherine Johnson, and Robert Carney, Thomas Graham and Henry Crane.

Fern Social Club.

The Fern Social Club met yesterday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Charles Mills on Manning boulevard. Those present were: Mrs. William Cain, Mrs. Frank Donahue, Mrs. George Finch, Mrs. Robert Carl, Mrs. Benjamin Simmons, Mrs. Thomas Smith, Mrs. Dewitt Zell, Mrs. Arthur Young, Mrs. James Ryan, Mrs. Leroy Jackson, Mrs. Joseph Hauemen.

Barn Dance.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Clark gave a barn dance at their place on the Schenectady turnpike. Their barn was effectively decorated with corn stalks, apples and jack-o-lanterns.

Among those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Grimes, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Coyle, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Tooker, Mr. and Mrs. Leo Wiley, Mr. and Mrs. James Kelly, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Gill, Mr. and Mrs. John McCarthy, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Rodgers, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, Mr. and Mrs. William Eckert, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Horton, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Beals, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Sill, Mr. and Mrs. Willis Woodard, Mr. and Mrs. Matthew Bloom, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer McCabe, Mr. and Mrs. Ed. Jackson, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Gibson, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Simons, Misses Lula Coyle, Katherine Clerk, Margaret Maynes, Carrie Parker, Julia Horton, Minnie Eckert, Helen Rodgers, and Charles Quinn, Harry Leonard, Osborne Gibson, James Kearney, George Looney, Frederick Wallace, Simon Wiley and Robert White.

Great Musical Event.

Interest and enthusiasm will welcome the announcement that Walter Damrosch and his great New York Symphony orchestra of 74 men is to give a concert in the state armory, Troy, Saturday evening, October 27, at 8:30 o'clock—the event marking the first appearance of the organization in this section.

Seats for the event will go on sale at Cluett's music stores in Troy, Albany and Schenectady next Wednesday.

Festival Choral Service.

On All Saints' night, November first, at 8 o'clock, the choir of All Saints' Cathedral will perform one of C. V. Stanford's finest choral compositions, "God is Our Hope and Strength." The feast of the cathedral's dedication is always marked by a festival choral service and Dr. Starnes has for this occasion selected a most brilliant and impressive cantata, whose stirring choruses are well contrasted with its flowing quartet and solo movements. Solo work will be in the hands of Hella Hager, soprano; Floyd Pianis, alto; Walter S. Richards, tenor, and George F. Stein, bass. The public is cordially invited to this service.

Series of Organ Recitals.

Dr. Percy J. Starnes is arranging for a series of twelve public recitals on the great organ of All Saints' Cathedral, one to be given in each week until the series is completed. As has been found advisable in the past, the recitals will be divided between afternoons and evenings, thus enabling all to hear the beauties of this instrument. In response to numerous requests, a feature of each program will be an improvisation by Dr. Starnes on a given theme. Several entirely new compositions will be performed. The first recital will take place next Wednesday at 8 o'clock in the evening, to which the public is invited.

Reception.

Miss Mary Frances Sanford, who has charge of the religious work of the Y. W. C. A., was given a reception last evening in the association building. Mrs. Acors Rathbun was present and Miss Osterhout contributed to the musical program.

The feature of the evening was an address by Miss Sanford.

Musical Notes.

The Schumann Glee Club will hold an important meeting and rehearsal to-night.

The Albania orchestra will resume regular rehearsals beginning next Tuesday evening at the usual time and place.

Miss Honora T. Keogh, of 176 Hamilton street, has resumed her music work for the season, and is forming classes for the study of the piano. Miss Keogh is a pupil of Frank Sill Rogers, with whom she studied for eight years, and is now studying with William L. Glover, the pupil of Lechetesky, who is now connected with the Emma Willard Conservatory in Troy.

Lecturers.

Samuel J. Preston and C. Edward Jones of the educational department at Albany, and Miss Eunice Perine of the Albany Normal college are among the lecturers at the Schenectady County Teachers' Institute, which is convening at Delmar.

General Gansevoort Statue.

Under the direction of City Engineer John L. Plunkett of Rome work was commenced yesterday for the foundation for the statue of General Peter Gansevoort, to be erected by Mrs. Abram Lansing of this city, a granddaughter of General Gansevoort, in his memory. The unveiling exercises will take place November 8. Mrs. Lansing and a delegation of her friends will go to Rome by special train on this occasion. The statue will be inside the circle in East park.

To Work for Bazaar.

Of the many clubs of women actively interested in the bazaar for the Albany Guild for the Care of the Sick, not one is more enthusiastic or more capable of accomplishing its purpose than the Tuesday Club of Slingerlands. These ladies have consented to become responsible for the Utility booth and the success of this department of the bazaar is assured.

The members of the club, who meet one afternoon and one evening each week in the interests of the bazaar are: President, Mrs. Arthur Helme; secretary and treasurer, Mrs. Frank Hitchcock, and the Mesdames Fred S. Blessing, William Lloyd Coughtry, Charles Lamb, D. C. Case, William H. Coughtry, W. H. H. Miner, A. F. Mattice, Calvin W. Edwards, C. H. Slingerland, J. W. Keefer, Albert Frazier, O. H. Fasoldt, F. A. Boutelle, Robert Hotaling, Benjamin Dearstyne and W. F. Winship.

Cohoes Man Married.

Miss Helena Little Brown, daughter of Mrs. Mary A. Brown of Sandy Hill, was married yesterday to Robert Chisholme Graham of Cohoes. The Rev. Dr. H. A. Barton performed the ceremony. Miss Edith Brown, a sister of the bride, was bridesmaid and Tom Graham, a brother of the groom, was best man. The bride was charmingly attired in a suit of gray veiling and carried a bouquet of bride's roses. Mr. Graham has a host of friends in Sandy Hill. He played third base on the Sandy Hill baseball team the season of 1905.

Among the guests at the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. William Graham of Schenectady, Thomas Graham, Miss Halpin of Cohoes, William Martin, John Garrity, Charles Haver and Timothy Linehan of Schenectady and William Henderson of Cohoes.

To Represent the State.

Corporation Counsel Walter W. Magee, of Syracuse, who was in charge of that city's case against the Syracuse Lighting Company, which resulted in the recent order of the gas commission for a decrease in rates and improvements in the Syracuse lighting service, has been appointed by Attorney General Mayer to represent that office at the settlement of the order in the case on appeal before the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court. Thus the city will have a representative in the case, although Mr. Magee will act officially for the gas commission.

Your Eyes

No. 123.

When you go to any regular physician in the city to have your eyes examined it costs you from $5 to $10. When you go to a mere optician or clerk in some department store it is apt to cost you considerable suffering.

But if you do as so many other people are doing and have the examination made at our office, you get the correct glasses, because they are prescribed by a registered physician, and you have nothing to pay for but the glasses themselves, for we bear the expense of the examination.

Do not run any risk of injuring your eyes. Have them examined (without cost to you), by our eye specialist, a regular physician. Glasses, only if needed, often as low as $1.
