

THE SALE OF THE MANOR OF CHARDSTOCK 1915 TO 1918

Sources: The printed catalogue of the first auction sale held on 22nd, 23rd and 24th November, 1915, which recorded, in lot number order, the plots included in each lot, a description of the plot, the acreage and the name of either the Copyholder or the tenant.

The Indenture of sale of the Chardstock Estate to George Grant Stevenson 25.2.1916, which included a schedule of the land holdings detailing the name of the Copyholder or tenant immediately prior to the first auction sale, the Tithe number, 1905 O. S. number and Enclosure number (if applicable) of each plot, the name of the plot and the acreage. A hand written appendix recorded the date of completion of sale and the new owner of each plot of land.

The printed details of the second auction sale held on 25th October, 1916.

The land schedule section of each sale lot incorporates information from the above three sources.

ESTATE SALE

The sale of the estate was complicated and lengthy, taking over three and a half years to complete. It had been owned freehold by the Henley family since purchase from the Church Commissioners in 1873 for £51,000. It was then immediately mortgaged for £52,000 and in 1891 the mortgage was increased to £55,500, although part of this latter sum was secured against premises held by the Henley family in Whitehall Place, London.

In 1915 the estate was held under the Trust arrangements made by Anthony Henley Baron Henley in his Will dated 8.5.1894, which stipulated that his Manor or Lordship of Chardstock was to be for the use of his eldest son Frederic Henley Baron Henley, his third son Anthony Morton Henley and his youngest son Francis Robert Henley successively according to seniority. Anthony Henley Baron Henley died 27.11.1898 and his Will was proved in the Principal Probate Registry 1.3.1899.

FIRST AUCTION SALE

The first stage of the process was to offer the estate for sale by auction over three days (22nd to 24th November, 1915) at the George Hotel, Axminster. The estate was divided into 196 Lots, totalling 3670 acres, made up as follows;

		No. of Lots	Acreage
Freehold	Parish of Chardstock	159	2622 (71.4%)
Freehold	Parish of Membury	5	333 (9.1%)
Copyhold	Parish of Chardstock	28	566 (15.4%)
Copyhold	Parish of Membury	2	149 (4.1%)

Thus roundly 80% of the estate was offered Freehold and the remaining 20% Copyhold.

COPYHOLDS

During the first half of the 19th Century the entire estate was let by Copyhold (Copy of Court Roll), whereby the Copyholder paid a large entry fine to be admitted as tenant with the right to demise (rent or sublet to an undertenant) for a lease of lives as nominated by the Copyholder. In addition to the Copyholder, the number of lives was usually three, although it could be varied either way. The greater the number of lives, the higher the entry fine. Once the entry fine had been paid, the annual rent was comparatively very low. The Copyholder could sell the Copyhold to another party or, on the death of the Copyholder, the holding could be bequeathed according to the Will of the deceased. A widow could inherit and retain the estate of her deceased husband, provided she did not remarry. Throughout any such changes affecting the Copyholder the lives were not affected unless a variation was agreed between the Freeholder and the Copyholder and an appropriate fine paid. The Copyhold remained valid until the death of the last life, when it reverted to the Manor..

After about 1850 Copyholds in the Manor of Chardstock were gradually reduced in number. As each Copyhold expired on the death of the last life (came into hand), it was replaced by an Annual Tenancy Agreement (or Rack Rent) terminating either on Michaelmas (29th September) or Lady Day (25th March). Originally there were about 155 Copyholds, but by 1915 the number had been reduced to 45. There were nine cases of two Copyholds being combined into a single holding and one (Lower Ridge Farm) which comprised seven separate Copyhold agreements. The 45 Copyholds still valid in 1915 retained their grouping and were offered at the first auction in 30 Lots.

ANNUAL TENANCIES

Conversion from Copyhold to Annual Tenancy Agreements suited the Church Commissioners because those converted before 1873 increased the value of the estate when it was sold to the Henley family and those converted after 1873 again increased the value of the estate to the ultimate benefit of the Henley family when they sold the estate in 1915/16. Sale prices at the two auctions indicate that Freehold land achieved a price per acre between two and three times greater than Copyhold land. Annual Tenancy Agreements also meant that tenants had considerably reduced rights of occupancy and allowed the Lord of the Manor to exercise far greater control over how the lands were farmed.

Virtually every holding was converted to an Annual Tenancy, without the use of fixed term leaseholds of 7, 10 or 14 years. The only exception was Lot 88 Cleevehill Farm, which was held by Albert Strawbridge for 7 years from Lady Day 1912. There were also two leases for 65 years (Lot 138 Rose Cottage from Lady Day 1877 and Lot 155 Brett's from 29.9.1898), but these applied to newly built houses.

Altering any of the Copyholds, for example by increasing or reducing the number of plots, would have been extremely difficult to achieve because of the legal complications, so all the Copyholds were offered at auction as they stood.

FREEHOLD LANDS

The same could not be said for the Freehold lands, which underwent considerable change, presumably in an attempt to achieve the highest possible price. Most affected were the dairy and mixed farms (covered in more detail below), but other changes included offering individual plots with good road frontages as Lots suitable for housing/commercial development (the Local Agents for the estate sale R & C Snell, Axminster particularly benefited with Robert Snell acquiring eight Lots of 30 acres at Tytherleigh and one Lot of 6 acres at Alston), creating small holdings by adding lands to cottages previously forming part of a larger farm and by a general “tidying up” process of moving plots to create more logical and workable holdings.

THE SALE PROCESS

After the first auction, work began on processing the legal documents for each land transaction and by the end of February 1916, the first tranche of sales was ready to be concluded. The mechanism for doing so was rather unusual in that the entire estate was sold by the Henley family on 25.2.1916 to George Grant Stevenson of Parliament Chambers, City of Westminster - the same address as the solicitors Messrs Houseman & Co. acting on behalf of the Henley family. George Grant Stevenson then sold the lands to each new purchaser by separate conveyance.

A full transcript of the Indenture of 25.2.1916 is given below:

IN WITNESS whereof the said parties to these presents have hereunto set their hands and seals the day and year first above written.”

The Stamp Duty was £550 or 1% of the purchase price.

This arrangement enabled the Henley family to conclude their involvement in the estate with immediate effect. The sale price of £55,000 covered the outstanding mortgages of £3,726 and £42,000 then held against the estate and produced a surplus of £9,274.

At the time of the sale to George Grant Stevenson it is estimated that only 30 - 40% of the estate had agreed sales, subject to contract. The remaining 60 - 70% was unsold, so there would have been a financial risk in taking on the liability for selling the remainder of the estate as the final sale price could not have been known, nor calculated. No doubt this was reflected in the price paid. Completion dates for the auction sales started without further delay with the Fishing Rights being sold on 26.2.1916 and the lands sales commencing 28.2.1916.

Between 28.2.1916 and 25.10.1916 completed sales covered 159 Lots or 1622 acres from the whole estate of 3670 acres, or 44% of the total. At 25.10.1916 there were also seven land transactions covering 88 acres for which a price had been agreed, but the sale had not been concluded.

SECOND AUCTION SALE

A second auction was then held on 25.10.1916, this time at The George Hotel, Chard. 1960 acres, or 53% of the estate, was offered in 25 Lots. These Lots differed in many cases from the first auction held nearly a year earlier. In particular all the unsold Copyhold/Lifehold Tenures were grouped into a single Lot of 487 acres, which included the right to the title of Lordship of the Manor of Chardstock.

The lands offered at the second auction comprised:

		No. of Lots	Acreage
Freehold	Parish of Chardstock	21	1206 (61.5%)
Freehold	Parish of Membury	3	267 (13.6%)
Copyhold	Parish of Chardstock	1	487 (24.9%)

Of these 25 Lots eleven sales were completed by the end of 1916, another five during the period January to June, 1917 and a further six between July and December, 1917. It took until 1918 before the final three were concluded with the very last being the Lot containing the Copyholds/Lifehold Tenures and the Lordship of the Manor, which was eventually sold by private treaty to Isaac Lisle Smith 15.6.1918.

THE EFFECT ON INDIVIDUAL FARMS

The farmhouse and twenty-two plots of land (53.091 acres) were retained to which were added seven plots (22.544 acres) previously recorded as Furnham, five plots (9.513 acres) previously recorded as "Holding at Alston" and a single plot of 1.820 acres, which was unlet, to produce a revised holding of 86.968 acres. The lands lost from Alston Farm were either transferred to Millway Farm (four plots of 8.011 acres) or auctioned in six separate Lots (seventeen plots of land totalling 47.264 acres). Alston Farm was acquired by John Seward 3.3.1916.

AXE FARM (Lot 17) Freehold

AUCTION PRICES

The price paid for each Lot has been difficult to trace, primarily because the papers to which we have access are those held by the current Lord of the Manor and came from Henley family records. These do not include individual sale prices because the Henley family had no further interest in the estate after the sale of 25.2.1916. George Grant Stevenson would not have wanted the prices to have been commonly known as the information was commercially sensitive. It took three and a half years to dispose of the estate and it would not have helped in achieving the highest price if each potential buyer knew the prices paid for previous sales. Also anyone with access to the full list of sale prices could easily calculate the difference between how much George Grant Stevenson paid for the estate and the eventual price for which it was sold.

We do, however, have some of the conveyances from George Grant Stevenson to the new owners and these record the actual sale price. In such cases the price is recorded under the NOTES section of the sale catalogue. It should be noted that the final price was the amount bid at auction plus the value of the timber as detailed in the catalogue.

We also have a copy of the sale catalogue from the first auction on which prices and brief comments have been written in pencil, by, we believe, Isaac Lisle Smith. These figures cannot be verified from legal documents, so they are presented below for information only, although they do make interesting reading.

NO or W (withdrawn) indicates that no bid was high enough to be accepted. Where there is both a price and the note W, it is likely that the reserve price had not been reached and the lot was withdrawn from the sale. The high number of withdrawals and “No bids” demonstrates how difficult it was to sell the estate at auction and how much negotiating must have gone on behind the scenes.

SALE DETAILS

The sale details are recorded below in Lot number order. The notes section of each Lot records additional information from a number of sources relevant to that sale. These notes are shown in italics.

Abbreviations have been avoided wherever possible and full stops have not been used in names, thus Mr. Wm. Watts in the sale catalogue appears as Mr William Watts. This measure is designed to assist word search software programmes.

Also one consistent error in the first sale catalogue is that Isaac Lisle Smith appears as Mr. J Lisle Smith.

Prior to the estate sale, Court Farm covered 414.521 acres and was by far the largest farm in the Parish. The overall reduction of 137.465 acres was achieved by adding three wooded areas to the farm (plots 809, 811 and 603 as detailed above) and removing 39 plots of land and 5 cottages from the holding as detailed below:

The 5 cottages previously forming part of Court Farm were auctioned separately as Lots 152, 153, 166, 167 and 176.

Court Farm was not sold at the first auction sale. It was then subjected to a further major overall reduction in size from 277.056 to 163.359 acres by the creation of a

Crawley Farm did not sell at the first auction. It was then split into four parts with two of the parts being sold by private treaty as shown below:

John Wale acquired 7 plots (Nos. 16, 18pt, 24, 54, 56, 70 and 79) totalling 27.157 acres with a completion date of 2.3.1916.

The remaining two parts of the farm were offered for sale at the second auction on 25.10.1916 as Lots 23 and 25 as detailed below. They were both sold to Tom

John Andrews Whittle (completion date 24.4.1917) so Crawley Farm finally became a holding of 142.343 acres.

BAKERS PLOT

Ann Parris	76
Ellen Marie Broom	52

The Lifeholder pays Tithe and Land Tax.

This Lot is sold with the benefit of the right of way referred to in Lot 7.

NOTES: There are discrepancies between the legal documents relating to the estate sale and the sale catalogue regarding this holding. The former shows Plot 555 in two parts, as recorded above, with a combined acreage of 2.056, whereas the latter combines them into a single entry of 1.056 acres. For this reason the total acreage of the Lot differed between 11.060 (legal documents) and 10.060 (catalogue). It is believed that the legal documents are correct. Also the legal documents make no mention of Ann Parris as a surviving "Life" for the Copyhold called Bakers Plot.

In 2008 the cottage was called "Holbrooks".

*Lot 162 did not sell at the first auction. It was offered again for sale at the second auction on 25.10.1916 as part of Lot 22, but again did not sell.
